Hudson Cook, LLP Partners to participate in FTC Roundtable event
-Two Hudson Cook, LLP lawyers invited to participate in FTC Roundtable

Hanover, MD – March 18, 2011

The Federal Trade Commission will host a series of Roundtables around the country to gather information on consumers' experiences when buying or leasing motor vehicles. The Roundtables will explore consumer protection issues related to the sale, financing, and leasing of cars, SUVs, and light trucks. The first Roundtable will take place on April 12 at Wayne State University Law School in Detroit. Wayne State is the co-host of the event.

Tom Hudson and Michael Benoit have been invited to participate in the first Roundtable event. Tom will be on a panel discussing how dealer financing works, and Michael will contribute to a discussion of the use of GPS and starter interrupt devices in vehicle finance.
