

Hudson Cook Recognized Among the "Special Finance 175" by Cherokee Media Group

April 22, 2026 |

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hanover, MD — Hudson Cook, LLP is pleased to announce that the firm has been recognized by Cherokee Media Group as one of the companies included in the 2026 Special Finance 175, featured in SubPrime Auto Finance News.

The Special Finance 175 highlights organizations across the auto finance ecosystem—including finance companies, service providers, and technology partners—that continue to take on risk and deliver value in the auto finance market. As noted in the publication, these companies play an essential role in helping consumers with non-prime credit access to vehicle financing while supporting dealerships and companies with the tools and guidance needed to navigate evolving regulatory expectations and shifting consumer demand.

This recognition comes at a time when broader economic factors—including employment trends, inflation, interest rates, and global uncertainty—continue to influence the automotive and auto finance industries. The companies included in the Special Finance 175 are recognized for their ability to operate effectively amid these conditions while continuing to serve both businesses and consumers.

Hudson Cook is proud to be included among organizations contributing to the strength and stability of the auto finance industry. The firm remains committed to helping clients address regulatory developments, manage risk, and respond to the challenges and opportunities shaping today's market.

"We appreciate the recognition from Cherokee Media Group and are honored to be included among organizations supporting the auto finance industry," said Eric Johnson, partner and co-chair of the firm's Automotive and Personal Property Finance and Leasing Practice Group. "We remain focused on helping our clients navigate an increasingly complex federal and state regulatory and business environment."

Hudson Cook congratulates the other organizations included in this year's Special Finance 175.
